POLISH EMBASJY DENIES DROHOJOWSKI DEFECTION

London -- Early this week, Reuters reported that Jan Drohojowski, the Warsaw regime's former envoy to Cairo, who was recalled to Warsaw at the request of Egyptian authorities, refused to return and supposedly left for Mexico. The Polish embassy in Paris denied reports of Drohojowski's refusal to return to Poland. It stated that he came to Paris from Cairo and them flew to Warsaw.

Drohojowski served the Communists faithfully and zealously for 7 years. During this time he was an envey to Mexico and South American republics, and, as a delegate to the UN, he stepped out in the infamous role of the accuser of Cardinal Mindszenty. He condemned "American imperialism," and advocated the dismissal of foreign correspondents for criticism of the politics of the country they were in.

Before the war, Drohojowski was for some time a foreign correspondent for fanti-Communist/ Kurier Poznanski (Poznan Courier), organ of the Nation the /anti-communist/ Rurier Foznanski (Foznan Courier), organ of the nationalist Party. The present Communist ambassador to Washington, Jozef Winiewicz, also was editor in chief of an /anti-Communist/ organ of country squires and the prewar Polish government, the Dziennik Foznanski (Poznan Daily).
